

SWS Forestry Services & Grange National School mark National Tree Week.

National Tree Week is an annual, week-long festival organised by the Tree Council of Ireland. It celebrates all of the positive aspects of trees in our lives and environment and runs from the 3rd - 10th March. During tree week SWS Forestry Foresters provided trees to their local schools. Local Forester Joe Fitzgerald provided a tree to Grange National School, as part of the schools celebration of National Tree Week. The theme this year is 'A Feast of Trees'. Joe Fitzgerald was on hand to tell the children of the importance of trees and discussed the range of uses of trees. The children were then invited to help Joe plant a tree on the school grounds. "this is a good opportunity for SWS Forestry to do something positive for my local area and landscape' . The children were also celebrating World Book day by dressing up as their favourite book character.
